

WHERE LOVERS DIE

Lyrics: Wolfgang Gruter

Music: Rudolf Nepix

full moon in the valley
not a cloud in the sky
and lovers meet

and silence gives power to the ones who can hear it and love brings relief when you are near it and shadows dance with you and feel and touch you and they strike desire when they touch you and you jump into the fire it gently lights you and you manage a grin when death invites you

then you take your chance you stare at the moon it shines as cold as the end you were too sure too soon

yeah lovers meet
where lovers die
